

Navigating AwardSpring: A Guide for Donors

A step-by-step guide for donors participating in the scholarship review process

This guide walks you through accessing your account on the AwardSpring platform, and — if you're participating in reviewing or scoring applicants — using your dashboard to review applications and any awarding documents your applicants have provided.

Start by navigating to your organization's AwardSpring site. The URL will be provided to you by your organization's administrator.

You will land at the login page. (Please note that this page is customizable, so your organization's login page may look different than the example below.)

The screenshot displays the AwardSpring Academy login interface. On the left, a vertical sidebar contains four menu items: 'Scholarships' (with a graduation cap icon), 'Donors' (with a gift icon), 'Sign In' (with a key icon), and 'Register' (with a person icon). The main content area features a 'Sign In' form with fields for 'Email' and 'Password'. A 'Forgot password' link is positioned below the password field. A dark blue 'Sign In' button is located below the form. At the bottom of the form, a link for 'DON'T HAVE AN ACCOUNT?' points to a 'Register' button. The background of the login area shows a stylized illustration of a university building with a clock tower.

The administrator would have created your account; however, you are required to set up the password for the account. To do so, click the Forgot Password button.

Personal Statement – Describe your academic and career goals and how a scholarship would help you reach them.

I'm a senior studying robotics, and my goal is to design automation systems that make manufacturing safer and more accessible for small operations that can't afford today's industrial equipment. The work I've done on autonomous navigation for my capstone has shown me how much room there still is to lower the cost of this technology. As a first-generation student, finishing this degree means a lot more than a diploma to me — it's proof to my family that the gamble of college paid off. This scholarship would let me cut back the hours I work during my final two semesters and put that time into my capstone and into the internship interviews that turn into a first engineering job.

Financial Need Statement – Describe your current financial situation and explain how a scholarship would help you cover your educational costs. Feel free to mention any circumstances - such as household income, work or family obligations, or unexpected expenses - that affect your ability to pay for school.

My household income is modest, and I qualify for a Pell Grant, but it doesn't cover the full cost of my last year. I work part-time to handle rent and books, which eats into the time I'd rather spend on my capstone and job search. A scholarship would let me reduce those hours during my final two semesters so I can finish strong instead of stretched thin, and it would lower the loan balance I carry into my first job.

Score Cards

Instructions

You are reviewing applications for the Emergency Fund Scholarship. Your primary goal is to evaluate each applicant's circumstances and assign a numerical score that reflects your preference for funding.

Scoring Directive Use a relative ranking approach: assign your highest scores to the applicants who are your top choices to receive funding. Higher total points should directly correspond to your highest priority candidates.
